Paul A. Mix, a native of Prussia, died at the Western Lunatic Asylum-liest Saturday. He was trained to the watchwaking and jewelry business in Prussia, and conducted it here. He came to this city about ten years ago. He was married, and leaves a wife and aix children. Recently his health and his mind gave away, when he was admitted to the Asylum. His body was brought to his residence, in this city, Sunday morning, and on the afternoon of that day he was buried, Rev. Mr. Settlemeyer, pastor of the Lutheran church, conducting the services. His life was insured for $15,000.

The first german of the season came off on Friday last. The grounds were minated with various colored lights, the ball-room artistically decorated, and the assemblage of ladies conspicuous for elegance, grace, and beauty. There were eleven couples, and the dance was led by Messrs. Frank W. Foster, of Georgia. and A. W. Venable, of South Boston, Va. Mrs. Foster was becomingly attired

A Jamestown (N. Y.) special says: "One of the narrowest escapes on record " has been told the Times's correspondent. C. Southwick, of this city, an engineer on the New York, Pennsyl vania and Ohio railway, was in the en gine cab with his friend, Engineer Tyler, on a narrow-gauge road connecting C. an and Bradford, only a few days ago, when in rounding a sharp curve a team and wagon were discovered crossing the track only a few rods ahead. The air-brakes were instantly set, but the distance was too short to permit a stop before reaching the crossing. Fortunately the wagon was driven off the rails just as the train whizzed by. The wagon was loaded with nitro-glycerine. The train was well filled with passengers, who were, of course, in ignorance of the danger they had escaped until the train reached Bradford, where the white faces of those who had occupied the engine cab proved the reliability of the story they told.

Sam. Joues Touches Georgia Pride. An Atlanta special says : Some of the recent extravagant statements of the Rev. Sam. Jones in relation to Georgia causes embarrassment here. His picture of four bushels of corn and two of wheat to the acre is warmly resented by the Hon. J. T. Henderson, sented by the Hon. J. T. Henderson, Commissioner of Agriculture. The Commissioner has written to Mr. Jones, notifying him in a friendly way that such statements repeated will call for a formal correction. The fact is, that the average production of corn to the acre, including sections afflicted by drought, and allowing for all the devastations of adverse elements, is nine bushels to the acre, and that of wheat is seven, while in large sections of the State the yield is equal to that of the most luxuriant regions of the West. TRUSTEES' AUCTION SALE OF
THE MAGBIFICENT JAMER-RIVER
ENTATE NOWN AS "BERKELEY," NITUATED IN CHARLES CITY COUNTY,
AND CONTAINING ABOUT 1.400 ACRES.
By virtue of a certain deed of trust duly recorded in the clerk's office of the County Court of Charles City county on the 30th day of September, 1881, we, the trustees named in said deed, will, bee suss of default in the payment of the debt secured by said deed, and at the request of the holder of the note thereby secured, sail by public fauction, on the premises, on THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1886.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1886.

at 10 clock P. M., the LARJE, VALUA-BLE, AND HISTORIC FARM KNOWN AS "BERKELEY," situated at Harrison's Latding, on James river, in Charles City country, containing about 1, 400 ACRES, of which a fair proportion is cleared land and in a fine state of cultivation.

The DWELLING, which is of brick, is large and first-class, with porcebes on all four sides, from some of which there is the grandest river view to be had anywhere. On the place are substantial barns, tables, ice-bouse, and other out-houses in quantity and consacter suitable to such an estate. There are no marshes on the place, but the river abounds, in season, with fish, gene, ducks, and other game in great variety and in such quantities as to be a feature of importance. Especially is this true of the fishery, which is annually rented for a good rental. The place is supplied with both well and elstern water in abundance.

This farm is about twenty-five miles by road below Richmond, and adjoins the celebrated "Westover" estate of Major A. H. Drewry. As intending purchasers will doubtless inspect the place before the day of sale, a failer description of it is deemed unnecessary.

TERMS: One third of the purchase-money.

of sale, a faller description of it is deemed unnecessary.

TERMS: One third of the purchase-money in cash, and the residue in three equal instalments, payable at six, twelve, and eighteen months respectively from the day of sale, the purchaser to give negotiable notes for the deferred instalments, with interest added, and to secure said notes by a deed of trust on the property.
